

Spanish-Language Foreign Media Analyst on Human Trafficking in the Americas

Project Title	Spanish-Language Foreign Media Analyst on Human Trafficking in the Americas
Project Summary	The Office to Monitor & Combat Trafficking in Persons (J/TIP) is looking for highly motivated, capable individuals to follow foreign language coverage of human trafficking in Latin America and the Caribbean including trends, good practices, ongoing cases, and challenges in Spanish.
Country	United States
Country/Region of Focus	Latin America and the Caribbean

Project Description

J/TIP is looking for highly motivated, self-starters to track media reports in Spanish (required) and/or French (optional) on human trafficking in Latin America and the Caribbean including trends, good practices, ongoing cases, and challenges in Spanish.

Using resources we provide, the incumbent will research, analyze, and translate relevant articles and social media mentions of human trafficking trends, good practices, ongoing cases, and challenges in brief daily/weekly reports. We do not seek bulk translation but only to flag specific items of interest for Office and Department leadership.

The incumbent will gain valuable experience working for J/TIP whose mission is to lead the Department's global efforts to combat modern slavery through the prosecution of traffickers, the protection of victims, and the prevention of human trafficking by: objectively analyzing government efforts and identifying global trends, engaging in and supporting strategic bilateral and multilateral diplomacy, targeting foreign assistance to build sustainable capacity of governments and civil society, advancing the coordination of federal anti-trafficking policies across agencies, managing and leveraging operational resources to achieve strategic priorities, and engaging and partnering with civil society, the private sector, and the public to advance the fight against human trafficking.

The incumbent's analysis will inform policymakers and contribute to the knowledge base of J/TIP analysts working in the region who write the annual Trafficking in Persons Report.

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Analytical writing
Editing and proofreading
Research
Writing

Additional Information

The ideal candidate will be minimally professionally proficient in one of the requested languages and also have commensurate knowledge of a country in the region or Latin America and the Caribbean. Students of journalism, international relations, business, law, national security policy, history, or area studies would all have the relevant skills and experience.

Language Requirements

Language	Speaking Proficiency	Reading Proficiency	Importance
Spanish	Minimum professional proficiency	Minimum professional proficiency	Required
French	Minimum professional proficiency	Minimum professional proficiency	Nice to Have